APPLICANT'S COMMENTS ON EXAMINER'S STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

In discussing the allowable subject matter contained in independent claims 1, 10, 26 and 27, the Examiner recited a portion of these claims and stated that the references of record, i.e., the prior art, did not teach such a claimed invention. It is a well known tenet of patent law that patent claims are read as a whole, rather than element by element. Therefore, the scope of the claims is not necessarily limited to only the claim elements that the Examiner noted, but rather, to the language of the claims themselves, in their entirety.

There are also allowed dependent claims that depend directly or indirectly from the allowed independent claims. Each of these allowed claims includes particular features and particular claim language, and therefore each has a scope different from the others allowed in this case.
